Trexler Junior High School

Fifteenth & Greenleaf Sts.
Allentown, Pa.

ALLENTOWN SCHOOL DISTRICT

James L. Hambor
Principal

As this is Mr. Hambor's first year at our school we would like to congratulate him on the great job he has done. During his first year, he has shown great leadership and authority, tempered with an understanding of the students' problems. It is our sincere wish that Mr. Hambor goes on with his attempt to better the school and can continue improving it through the years. The graduating class of 1977 would like to wish Mr. Hambor the best of luck for the future.

Louis P. DeLorenzo
Asst. Principal

Principal's Message

You, the class of 1977, will assume the positions of leadership as our nation moves into its third century of existence. Will you be prepared to deal with the crises and challenges that will confront you? What will you need to be happy and successful?

I believe it to be imperative that you equip yourselves with the tools of learning; for with these tools you can learn all your life. Put into practice the slogan of Trexler Junior High School: "If you think you can, you can!" Make your commitment to excellence. Accepting this challenge is vital because mediocre students are likely to become mediocre citizens. Indeed, the medicine for mediocrity flows through academic, economic, political, athletic, artistic, and particularly, moral excellence. Be willing to pay the price. The path to excellence is attained through sacrifice, discipline, duty, and perseverance.

John Milton, a 17th century Englishman wrote, "Give me the liberty to know--above all liberties." Is this not what our education is all about? Heed the words of Milton! The foundation of our nation's future is being built in our schools today. Your generation will some day comprise the leadership and decision-makers of our society. If Thomas Hobbes is correct in arguing that a man's opinion forms the basis for his actions, it then becomes imperative that you make your commitment to excellence while in school.

Start now! The habits of today are the seeds of your actions tomorrow. Let the classroom be your entrance to the world. As I have said on many occasions in the past, let common sense be your guide. As you go through life, you will find that every action produces a reaction. You will be held responsible for your actions--no longer can you plead ignorance.

As you enter high school, you will be given the opportunity to carry out much of what you have learned here at Trexler. Your teachers have provided you with an excellent education. This is your foundation upon which to build as you face the new worlds that are opening to you. However, do not become discouraged when you find that you do not have all of the answers to life's questions. Refuse to allow this to deter you in your search for the truth.

I wish each of you good health and much happiness in the future. Always hold a fond memory of Trexler Junior High School in your hearts.
